An architect's rendering of the design for the Andover Public Safety Center which is to be built on Main Street, North of Elm Square, to house both the police department and the headquarters and central station equipment of the fire department. Though of contemporary design, the building will be constructed of traditional materials - waterstruck brick with copper trim. The administrative offices and fire department living quarters will be housed in the two-story section of the building to the right. Police cruisers will enter the building from the rear off Lewis Street. The plans were drawn by Architects Design Group Inc.

Town Clerk Irving Piper has announced that absentee ballots will not be permitted for the special election being held Oct. 3 to fill a 12th District vacancy in the Massachusetts House of Representatives. The clerk reports that absentee ballots are issued only for regular general elections.

There was a brief fire at the new senior high school building on Monday when an acetylene torch dropped a spark which set fire to a hose. The town manager reports that there was no damage since the accident occurred in an unpainted room away from combustibles.

Safety Center Project Cleared "Y" Director To Operate Youth Center

Town Manager Richard Bowen told the Selectmen Monday that he expects to break ground for construction of the new Public Safety Center on North Main Street in January or February and have the building ready for occupancy by the police and fire departments no later than November, 1968.

He said he expects to have an article in the March warrant which would authorize demolition of the present central fire station so that development of the Town Hall block for a new municipal office building and parking mall can begin as soon as the fire department is in its new headquarters.

The Board of Selectmen went through the formality of instructing the manager to get underway with the safety center though, technically speaking, the charter does not require that the board approve designs for building projects authorized by Town Meeting. Two Selectmen in fact, voiced strong opposition to the contemporary design of the building. Both Selectmen William Stewart and Sidney P. White restated their preference for a building of traditional design and Selectman White added to this his objection to the plans for locating firefighter sleeping quarters in the interior of the building where natural ventilation will not be available.

Manager Bowen said that the alternative was to place the dormitory where plans now call for location of a day room. He said it had been his and the architect's feeling that firefighters would prefer daylight exposure in the room where they spend their waking hours, but that consideration can still be given to a shift in placement.

During the discussion, Selectman White told the manager that he believes a poll of men in the police and fire departments would show that they are not pleased with plans for the joint facility. He said the attitude among the men is what whatever their feelings, the manager intends to go ahead.

Pettiness Involved

Bowen replied that none of the objections now being voiced were raised when architects met with representatives of the two departments and he added: "I don't think you can take a poll on how to do it unless you are ready to put up separate buildings." He commented that "pettiness" has a great deal to do with some criticisms of the building and he

Doherty Opposes Proposal For High School Grounds

On Monday the Selectmen received from Robert B. McIntyre, chairman of the school building committee, a letter suggesting that it might be well for the town to assume responsibility for the maintenance of all school playfields.

On Tuesday the School Committee received a letter from Committeeman William A. Doherty taking exception to the McIntyre recommendation and suggesting as a counter proposal that the school department assume immediate responsibility for those school grounds it does not already tend.

Both letters were received by the respective boards, but left for later discussion.

The McIntyre proposal, made for the building committee, points out that when the new high school is completed the area of school playfields will be greatly increased. They will require, said the chairman, year round, fulltime maintenance. Expressing the view that the job would be too big for custodial help at the school, the chairman said it "would appear to be a very natural extension of

GOP Evaluating Peace Plan

The Republican Town Committee considered but tabled action at its fall meeting on a resolution to endorse the recent proposal of Congressman F. Bradford Morse (R-Mass.) for step-by-step de-escalation of the Vietnam War.

Morse suggested some weeks ago that the U. S. schedule a series of 60 day suspensions of bombing raids against the North Vietnamese to build a confidence between the combatants that might lead to peace negotiations.

The GOP resolution was proposed by Arthur Neumark and opposed by Marco Pettoruto who cited his personal experience with the terroristic tactics of the North Vietnamese. Also supporting the resolution was Louis Friedman who pointed out that Congressman Morse has taken a positive step to establish a basis for negotiations and that no constructive suggestion to end the conflict should be disregarded.

After several members indicated they needed time to evaluate the Morse proposal, it was voted to table the resolution until the next meeting.

Rep. Francis W. Hatch of Beverly attended the fall meeting at Sheraton Rolling Green Motor Inn to discuss a conference to be held by the State Republican Committee in Worcester Nov. 17 and 18. "A reappraisal of the Republican party program" is to be undertaken at this session. To provide the November conference with information on party member think-

Ecumenical Actors Join Forces

A new community theater group has been formed in Andover.

Composed of a nucleus of small, individual theater workshops formed by local church groups of many denominations, the Ecumenical Theater Group of Andover will be working with one-act plays this fall.

One of the founders of the theater group, Mrs. Karel deHaas, has worked with the Walpole Footlighters, and is the author of a three-act play presented last spring by the Free Christian Church.

During the year, each member of a workshop will have an opportunity to act, direct, and try his hand at the many behind-the-scenes jobs that make up a theatrical production. As the principal aim of the workshop will be to gain experience, no previous theatrical background is necessary for membership. Enthusiasm will be the most important prerequisite.

The individual workshops will join together early next year for a three-act play, to be presented to the public in the spring.

Anyone interested in the theater group is invited to contact Mrs. Karel deHaas at 14 Cheever Cir. or Mrs. David Coffman at 3 Central Ln.

Fall Rehearsals

The Garret Players are rehearsing their first offering of the season, "Pool's Paradise", a comedy by Philip King.

The director is John B. Cote of Methuen, and in the cast are Mrs. Donald V. Porter of Andover, Mrs. Nancy Proctor of Methuen, Miss Jay Rand of Lawrence, Richard Wakeley of Methuen, William Johnson of Salem, N. H., and John Timmons of Lawrence. The play will be presented at Turn Hall, 44 Park St., Lawrence, on Nov. 3, 4, 5.

Free Practical Arts School Beginning Classes Sept. 25

The fall term of the Andover Evening Practical Arts School will open Sept. 25, offering classes in a variety of skills. Robert Deacon, an instructor at Andover Junior High School, is directing the program.

The proposed schedule includes: Monday evenings - beginners sewing; Tuesday evenings - advanced sewing and rug braiding; Wednesday evenings - advanced sewing, beginning sewing and knitting; Thursday evenings - tailoring.

The director has announced that registrations for classes may be made by telephone, by mail or on the first class night, if the class is not filled. In addition, a registration session will be held tonight, Sept. 21 from 7 to 9 at the guidance office in the junior high school. Persons wishing to register by phone may call Mr. Deacon at the school or address mail to him at the same address.

All courses offered are free of charge to Andover residents. Out-of-town registrations are accepted if space provides. Classes are open, however, only to persons over 16 years of age who are not enrolled in a daytime secondary school.

Hours for the class sessions will be from 7 to 10 p.m., and all sessions will be held in the East wing of the junior high building. The fall term will run ten weeks and the spring term will be of equal length.

the park department services to include the exceptionally large area of the new playfields" in with their present responsibility for care of the Playstead.

This department will be enlarged to care for green areas as they are acquired and any extra men employed could be kept busy on other town projects when the school fields do not require attention. "Economically, such a maintenance program would eliminate a costly duplication of equipment ...," McIntyre said.

School Committeeman Doherty, on the other hand, proposed to his board that the school committee take over the fields and grounds for the new high school "as soon as possible and proceed to correct the very dangerous condition there."

Doherty's letter continues: "As we all know, the fields have settled in places and the top soil is full of stones of all sizes, some larger than a man's head. The stones are so thick in some areas that there is very little soil, and over large sectors just enough to cover up the stones. We are all cognizant that these stones will come to the surface through frost upheavals in succeeding years.

"Since all students, hundreds of them, will be using these fields in the various physical education and athletic activities, the condition of these fields is such that it almost seems certain that some youngsters will be seriously injured. In my opinion the management that is responsible for the condition of this project should never be allowed to either attempt the correction of this very dangerous situation or to have the care, custody and control of these fields. As matters stand today, it is a public disgrace.

"Because of the gross inefficiency involved in this project, I would recommend that the school committee seek a joint meeting with the finance committee to consider future action in order to complete the project properly.

"I would also recommend that the school committee take immediate steps to employ additional men for the care and maintenance of the school grounds. At the present time, it is necessary to line off various athletic fields for football, soccer and field hockey for the girls. Through the years the school department has been dependent upon the Board of Public Works to do this work. The men assigned to it have been most cooperative but the schools are always at the mercy of their time schedule. If these men are assigned to other duties, the schools have to wait. This hampers the physical education program. If we have our own crew, they can take care of the problems when necessary and coordinate their work with the school program. It is imperative that the schools have the care, custody and control of the premises."

Andover PO To Promote Zip Code

Andover residents will have an opportunity to easily put ZIP into their mail late this month. Postmaster Francis Mooney reports today.

During the last half of September, the post office will deliver to every householder a kit of eight postal cards which can be mailed back to the post office with addresses needing ZIP Codes. Each completed card will be sent to the post office which services the "zipless" address and the proper code will be added before the form is returned to the sender.

No postage will be needed on these cards.

Each of the eight postal cards in the kit will contain a message encouraging the general use of ZIP Code. There will be a ninth card of instructions. All will be folded together like a closed accordion. There will be perforations between each form. In addition, another separate card will be delivered along with the kit which is a reminder of the local ZIP Code.

Last year approximately 4,000 addresses were ZIP Coded by the Andover Post Office as part of a similar program using only one (or two) cards with spaces for as many as 13 addresses, Postmaster Mooney said.

Nationally, about eight addresses per card were returned during the 1966 project.

The unit cost of entering the code onto each card will be less than the system used in 1966 because no look-up will be necessary. Every card in the final post office will need the same code, so an inexperienced clerk will be able to simply stamp it on the card and send the form on its return journey.

On an average day, between 175 and 250 million new pieces of mail enter the postal system. It is not expected that more than 10 million of the ZIP-A-LIST cards will be in the system at any one time during the peak periods of mailing. Since they will be handled essentially as ordinary postal cards, there will be no burden or dislocation of service.

"The ultimate result will be an improvement in service," Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien has said about the project. "ZIP Code is the base upon which the modern postal service is being built. But, it won't work and the modernization and efficiencies ZIP Code will bring cannot go into effect, until there is more widespread usage of the five-number code."

The ZIP-A-LIST project is the most dramatic aspect of our continuing campaign to make ZIP Codes readily available to the public."

Last year, approximately 17 percent of the nation's householders returned 96 million addresses for coding. The Postmaster General reported that many postmasters had informed the Department that the ZIP-A-LIST project was an important aspect in making Christmas matters aware of the importance of using the codes on their holiday mail and as an off-shoot, encouraged early mailing of their gifts and cards. This resulted in the most successful holiday season in recent postal history.

Extra kits will be available at the post office.

"The ultimate result will be an improvement in service," Postmaster General Lawrence F.
Brien has said about the project.
ZIP Code is the base upon which modern postal service is being built. But, it won't work and the modernization and efficiencies ZIP Code will bring cannot go into effect, until there is more widespread usage of the five-number code.

"The ZIP-A-LIST project is the most dramatic aspect of our continuing campaign to make ZIP Codes readily available to the public."

Last year, approximately 17 percent of the nation's householders returned 96 million addresses for coding. The Postmaster General reported that many postmasters had informed the Department that the ZIP-A-LIST project was an important aspect in making Christmas mailers aware of the importance of using the codes on their holiday mail and as a result, encouraged early mailing of their gifts and cards.
This resulted in the most successful holiday season in recent postal history.

Extra kits will be available at post office.

A popular hardware for small boats is made of nickel stainless steel because the material is strong, tough, and resists corrosion and abrasion.

1964 Gifts From Andover England Exhibited

From Andover to Andover. Gifts brought from Andover, England to Andover, Massachusetts, celebrating the centenary of Southern Newspaper, Ltd., of Southampton are on display in the reading room at Memorial Hall Library. At the time of the gift in October, 1964, the library was undergoing construction of the new wing. There was no display space for a plaque, a painting by an Andover artist, and no suitable place to show the scrap book our friends from overseas had prepared. So they were kept at the Town House that fall. Later the selectmen turned them over to Memorial Hall Library.

The visit to Andover of our English friends is being remembered by the display of the gifts on the third anniversary of their presentation. Selectman chairman Phillip K. Allen said on the 1964 occasion that the local gift of a plaque for the visitors to take back to Andover, England was meant to promote further understanding between the two nations.

Completing the display are books on England and books on Andover, Massachusetts.

Director Honored

September 10 twenty-seven members and former members of the library staff enjoyed dinner with their "esteemed boss," Miss Miriam Putnam who has headed up Memorial Hall Library for more than 28 years. A Greek chorus, a souvenir book of library happenings and colored pictures of the party were some highlights of the occasion. A purse of money was the staff's farewell gift to their director who will be leaving next month to assume new duties at Talladega College in Alabama.

Monday evening the final trustees' meeting for Miss Putnam was turned into a special occasion when the trustees took her to dinner at the Red Tavern. She received a gift of recordings and a handsome scrap book for highlights of her years at the library.

8th Graders Transfer

Most of the students now in the eighth grade have had their library cards attended to by transferring from the children's room to the adult room at Memorial Hall Library. However, there are still some transfers to be made and the boys and girls who have not as yet obtained their adult library cards should do so as soon as possible. Two steps will take care of everything: Check out at the children's room desk and bring the transfer sheet upstairs to the adult department, to the main desk.

Luck Of The Sox

Overheard in the children's room very recently was an administrator's remark that the display of photographs of the Red Sox would remain undisturbed; nobody, but nobody would want to interrupt the fine performance of the team by changing the exhibit at this point. So if manager Dick Williams wants to know why his team is doing so well, the answer is the photo exhibit in the Children's Room at the library and the good luck redounding from the hopes and good wishes of all those young admirers.

Collection Grows

Modern and popular books as well as the classic backbone of the good literature collection are being added daily to the foreign language books at Memorial Hall Library. Come browse among the NOVELAS Y CUENTOS or the QUELQUE CHOSE POUR VOUS displays in the main reading room. Additional novels, tales and things for you with second and third languages will be found under such Dewey numbers as: German fiction - 833; Russian literature 891.7; French books are in the 840's and Spanish are in the 860's. All are on the main floor in the new West wing.

Andover Is Reading . . .

Here they are - you asked for them and reserve cards have just gone out to the first in line on the following:

Fleming - NO BONES ABOUT IT - Grandad Borgan starts showering his family with banknotes. . .

Gulik - MURDER IN CANTON - Judge Dee mystery.

Heyer - THE CONQUEROR - William of 1066 is a swift historical novel.

Great Books Series

The First meeting of the new 1967-68 Great Books reading and discussion program starts at Memorial Hall Library with Henrik Ibsen's WILD DUCK. The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. at the library on September 26th.

As in former years the co-leaders will be Robert Rockwell and Miss Helen Stearns. The Great Books meeting provide an excellent way for members to come together to increase their understanding of themselves and the world around them by exploring the meaning of a Great Book.

If you would like to attend the meetings which are open to the public in the Andover and Greater Lawrence area, ask for more information and come to the first meeting. Copies of the reading are available for loan; the reference librarian will be pleased to locate a copy of THE WILD DUCK if you do not have a copy.

Those members who ordered books of the readings for the coming year, but who have not picked them up, may have them now. They are ready.

Second GB Group

Great Books discussion leaders for the Junior program as well as other people who want to get together and read and discuss their ideas, have formed a Great Books Group II at Memorial Hall Library. The members of group II will meet at the library at 8 p.m. on Thursday, October 19th to discuss John Locke's OF CIVIL GOVERNMENT.

About New Books

As so often in other weeks, the new books widely range on a variety of issues and subjects. The more complex modern living becomes, the more people want to know about other parts of the world, not to mention their special areas of concern, why the more miscellaneous the new books at the library may look. Art, folk songs, play space for children, golf, and how to get along in the wilderness have this in common: they reflect some of the particular interests in the Andover community. New books are available for circulation now.

Editorial Comment

Unwarranted

The Andover Education Assn. has complained to the School Committee that it had difficulty recruiting new members for its contract negotiating team this year because "the word is out that it is bad news" to become involved with the collective bargaining procedure.

Spokesmen for the organization of teachers and school administrators explained that some teachers admitted they feared job discrimination — trouble over tenure and promotions.

There has been nothing in the relationship between the School Committee and the AEA since passage of the state law legalizing collective bargaining for municipal employees to produce such an attitude. The association said as much.

It can only be concluded, therefore, that this fear — real or imagined — has been generated from within the establishment. If the school administration has not already undertaken to dispel what is apparently a far too prevalent attitude, it should begin at once to demonstrate in whatever way it can that the fear is unwarranted.

Collective bargaining is a fact of municipal life now, and employees who are involved with negotiations should be able to represent their fellow workers with confidence that their own personal careers will not be affected adversely.

An Opportunity

The ABC boys have arrived and settled in, initiating an experiment that will be watched for its effectiveness well beyond the boundaries of this community.

The boys are here for an education — A Better Chance for the future than they could have hoped for in the cities where they grew up. But their presence provides a unique opportunity for the people of Andover to learn as well as teach.

These boys come from worlds that are unfamiliar to the bulk of our population, the kinds of places where problems have been fermenting that cannot be ignored. If we will listen, perhaps we can begin to grasp the reasons for the discontent that has produced what we observe from afar and label the "urban crises."

Conversely, if the A Better Chance boys are to learn all they should learn while they live in Andover, we must be quick to weave them into the fabric of our lives. A year of contrived meetings and artificial conversations will do nothing to breed the sort of genuine human understanding that it will take to truly unite the varied peoples of this amazing country.

What Our Readers Say

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

We are parents of a three year old boy who has a severe hearing loss. The inability to hear properly may be the most severe handicap a child can have because, although his mental ability is normal, his ability to accumulate language is limited. This inability to obtain language — to communicate normally — leads to an inability to acquire knowledge, and the result is that the deaf or hard of hearing person is unable to use his intelligence to its fullest. There is great hope for the deaf however when given a full, specialized education.

Because of the German Measle epidemic of 1963-65 there are now 800 to 3400 deaf children aged 2, 3, and 4 in Massachusetts. Massachusetts' four schools for the deaf will be able to accommodate, at most, about 180 of these 800-3400 children. Even before this epidemic these 3 private and 1 public school could not handle the number of deaf children here making it necessary to send them out of state at far greater cost to the state besides making for greater cost to the state besides making for greater separation of child and family.

Because of the coming crisis we have been meeting regularly this summer with other parents of deaf children for the purpose of passing legislation so that our children may be given a chance. Senate Majority Leader Kevin Harrington has been working closely with us. We now have 4 bills before the Massachusetts Legislature. They are Senate Bills 1370, 1371, 1372 and 1373. Bill No. 1370 calls for a panel of qualified professionals to develop detailed plans for putting programs for the education of deaf children into operation. Bills No. 1371, 1372 and 1373 would provide special day classes for all deaf, hard of hearing, and speech impaired children who need them within the public schools with the entire cost of these special programs provided by the state.

The legislation calls for the expenditure of money, but for considerably less money than would be required for the construction of new facilities. The money is a sound investment because education of the deaf works. Numerous examples could be cited to show that the deaf or hard of hearing child can become a leading, creative member of society when he is the recipient of a good education. Unfortunately, as many examples could be cited for the child who fails to receive a full education and becomes a burden to society and himself. Unless action is taken immediately our children face the latter, very dismal future.

We ask your reader's help in writing to our Senator James P. Ruark, and Representatives William Longworth and James Hurrell at the State House in Boston stating their support of these bills.

Would any parents of deaf or hard of hearing children please write to Massachusetts Parents Association for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing, P. O. Box 303, Boston so that all handicapped children can be accounted for in plans for their education.

Thank you,

Mr. and Mrs. Arland Atkins
6 Yale Rd.

Tax Comparison

Industry Wants Competitive Tax Rate

The Associated Industries of Massachusetts, the 2,400 member state manufacturers' association, has strongly urged Governor Volpe not to exceed the competitive corporate tax rates in light of a published report that the state's chief executive is considering an $85 million hike in income and corporation taxes to pay for increased state expenses.

Commenting on the report, Walter P. Muther, AIM legislative counsel, declared: "Massachusetts manufacturers are willing to pay their share of the tax burden, but we're steadfastly opposed to paying beyond the highest rate in any competitive industrial state in the country."

"What is needed — in fact, it is vital — is a sound tax policy, one anchored to economic reality. Any and every tax policy must be anchored on something other than the mere fact that money is being spent to finance innumerable and inexhaustible needs. For an industrial state like Massachusetts which at last has just gotten back to supplying 700,000 industrial jobs as it hadn't been able to do since 1960, it is absolutely basic that corporate tax rates do not exceed those of competitive industrial states."

According to the published report, the Governor is considering a proposed corporate income tax hike from 6.765 percent to 7.5 percent, with the levy of $6.15 per $1000 valuation on tangible corporation property going to a $7 rate.

"If tax policy and tax rates have any economic impact on our and the state's ability to develop jobs and a growing and diversified economy — as they obviously do —

10 Leading Industrial States	Taxes on Corporate Income
1. New York	5.5%
2. California	7.0%
3. Ohio	.4% (franchise tax on net worth)
4. Illinois	1.0% (franchise tax on net worth)
5. Pennsylvania	6.0%
6. Michigan	5.6%
7. New Jersey	3.25%
8. Indiana	2.0%
9. Texas	2.25% (franchise tax on net worth)
10. Massachusetts	6.765%

then there is a ceiling beyond which rates at this time must not go. Other sources of tax revenue must be utilized, the burden must be further shared, programs implemented over a greater period of time, or overall demands reduced," Muther said.

Massachusetts is the 10th ranked state in the nation, industrially. Of the 10 leading industrial states, only California has a 7 percent corporate income tax rate, reaching that rate just this year. Three of the top 10 industrial states have no comparable tax on corporate income at all, and nearby New York's rate is 5.5 percent, while neighboring Connecticut is at 5.25 percent.

Ring us to the north in New England, Maine and New Hampshire have no tax on corporate income at all.

"If Massachusetts hikes its corporate income tax rate to 7 percent, we would match the second ranking industrial state California. But it would be sheer economic folly to break the barrier and go above the 7 percent level," the manufacturers' spokesman on Beacon Hill stated.

"Massachusetts should aim for tax neutrality as far as its industrial future is concerned. The wartime federal income tax increase proposed by the Johnson Administration does not, on the other hand, impair this desired tax neutrality, since it will be paid in all states," the AIM official concluded.

As Others See It

The Prophet, a publication of the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce:

"News that Gillette Safety Razor Company is planning a new facility in Andover was lauded by everyone. Figures like 600 new jobs; $125,000 annual tax yield; expansion to 2,000 jobs; and a plant worth $2.8 million are obviously great to behold.

"However, this is an opportunity to impress on everyone the real fruits of this event. One of the projects Chamber officials like to promote is economic understanding . . . the value of profit to everyone in the nation. It has long been the contention of the U. S. Chamber that our youth come out of high school, and in some areas college, with a distorted or complete lack of knowledge of the free enterprise system.

"Locally, in our Prep Club experience, we have found that high school seniors overwhelmingly embrace the idea of government regulating the amount of profit a businessman can make. This would seemingly identify a problem in our educational system that the Chamber, as spokesman for the free economy and for the profit motivated businessman . . . should face.

"In the interest of economic understanding, let's look at the Gillette story again. Because of profit, because of the competitive economy, because of research developed products paid for from profit, this company needs an additional factory that will provide this locality with 400 to 600 new jobs.

"Let's examine what just 100 of these new jobs will mean to Greater Lawrence; an influx of 296 more people, 112 more households, 51 more school children, $590,000 more personal income per year, 270,000 more bank deposits, 107 more passenger cars registered, 174 more workers employed, 4 more retail establishments, $360,000 more retail sales per year.

"Because of the free enterprise system, because profit can be made and invested again, because wages can be paid and the money spent, every new job in a community causes an economic chain reaction that improves the well-being of everyone in the community. Realization of these facts and others like them are convincing arguments in favor of the free enterprise system and make it worth understanding better.

"We wonder if you know how your town's school system treats our economic system . . . are the school children in your community conditioned to believe that profit is a dirty word? Don't you think you should know?"

Down The Years

75 Years Ago — September, 1892/

Trombonist George Johnson, for many years a familiar member of the Andover Brass Band, and who has had more outside engagements than any local musician, is considering offers from Leader Reinwald of the Salem brass band and Leader Chandler of Chandler's famous band of Portland, Maine. Martland of Brockton has also endeavored to have him settle in the shoe city and become one of his men.

Sylvester Goodwin has moved into Hardy & Cole's house on Pearson Street which was formerly occupied by G. C. Lyle.

Proprietor Spofford wishes us to state that the report that Bald Pate in Georgetown is closed is erroneous and was maliciously started by discharged servants who have been replaced by an entirely new set of English servants and a much better cook. About 1000 have been registered there this season.

The scarlet fever cases, of which there were several in town, have about disappeared, only one new case being reported within the last week.

50 Years Ago — September, 1917

The annual exhibition of the Andover Florists' and Gardeners' Club advertised to take place Friday and Saturday of this week has been cancelled . . . because of the damage done by a severe frost.

Charles Robinovitz of Post Office Ave. will attend the Jewish New Year celebration in Lawrence Monday and Tuesday. His place of business will be closed.

Edward J. Pritchard, superintendent of the Prudential Life Insurance Co.'s branch in Lawrence has purchased the Emery E. Trott residence on Morton Street and he will occupy the same in the near future.

Eugene V. Lovely has moved with his family to the Stanley Pratt bungalow on Lupine Road.

A hundred deep breaths a day is one physician's recipe for avoiding tuberculosis. In ordinary breathing, only about 10 percent of the lung contents are changed at each breath. In deep breathing, a much larger percentage is changed.

The whole lung is forced into action, the liver and abdominal circulation is promoted and any stagnant blood in these regions is set in circulation and oxygenated.

25 Years Ago — September, 1942

Fulton Freeman, husband of the former Miss Phyllis Eaton of Andover, and member of the American Embassy at Peiping, China since 1940 returned to the United States two weeks ago on the Swedish diplomatic exchange liner Gripsholm. He emphasized on his arrival that in view of the harsh treatment accorded other interned diplomats by the Japanese, he considered his party very fortunate in being accorded the fair treatment it received.

A decrease of about seven percent over last year's opening day enrollment became evident at the first session of the public schools.

Fred E. Cheever advertised seven room Colonial house near Central schools for $5000!

J. Everett Collins, Andover's only candidate in Tuesday's primary, was renominated by a handsome vote as one of the three Republican candidates for representative in General Court from the Fourth Essex District.

10 Years Ago — September, 1957

Almost one-third of the town's area will become "rural" — meaning two-acre house lots — if special articles drawn by the planning board are approved by Town Meeting.

Sailing Monday on the Caesar Augustus for Rome Italy for four years of theological study to enter the priesthood will be Stanley C. Smith, OSA, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Peterson, of 18 Brechin Ter.

Theodore Peterson has been elected master of the Andover Grange.

Nieburger - Dufton

Christ Episcopal Church was decorated with white gladioli and chrysanthemums for the candle-light ceremony on Sept. 10 which united Gayle Louise Dufton of Andover and Edward Charles Nieburger of Pompano Beach, Fla. in marriage. Rev. J. Edison Pike officiated at the service and a reception was held afterward at the Raton Rolling Green Motor Inn. The bride is the daughter of Professor and Mrs. Charles H. Dufton of 35 Canterbury St. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Nieburger of Lighthouse Point, Pompano Beach, Fla.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown fashioned with an ivory Belgian lace bodice, a slim-line peau de soie skirt and a chapel train. Lace inserts and lace at the cuffs trimmed the full length sleeves. She wore also a full length mantilla and carried a cascade of white sweetheart roses and miniature carnations tinted ivory.

The matron of honor, Mrs. William Lukes of Nashville, Tenn., and the maid of honor, Miss Brenda McFague of Malden wore identical gowns of sorrel green silkened tulle fashioned with batteau necklines, short sleeves, Empire waistlines, slim skirts and accented with matching ruffled bows on each shoulder. Matching white and Colonial bouquets of fall chrysanthemums and sweetheart roses completed their costumes.

Miss Patricia Welch of Brighton, Miss Edith R. Clark of Andover, cousin of the bride and Mrs. David Melendy of Wakefield were the bridesmaids. Their gowns were identical to those of the other attendants and they carried Colonial bouquets made of fall chrysanthemums and roses with moss green ribbon.

The Misses Leslie A. Perry of Andover and Rachel L. Cox of Boston, a niece of the groom, were flower girls. Their gowns were of yellow sorrento with olive green velvet sashes and they wore headbands of tea roses.

Benjamin Saxon of Gainesville, Fla. was best man and Martin S. Cox of Boston, nephew of the groom, was ring bearer.

The ushers were Elbert Fletcher Jr. of Milton, Lincoln O. Clark of Andover, cousin of the bride, Kenneth MacDonald of Boston and Arthur Trangone of Milford.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Dufton chose a gold ensemble with green accessories and a green orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a light beige ribbon silk ensemble with matching accessories and a tangerine orchid corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Andover High School and Endicott Junior College of Beverly. Her husband is a graduate of Pompano High School, Pompano Beach, Fla. and he attends the University of Florida, Gainesville, Fla.

Community Group Will Meet

The West Andover Community Assn. will hold its first general monthly meeting of the season on Sept. 25 at 8 p.m.

The steering committee will present plans for the new year and refreshments will be served. Both old and new residents of West Andover are asked to attend.

Officers of the association are: Donald Craig, president; Chester Whitney, vice president; Mrs. Albert Greenberg, treasurer; and Mrs. Edmond LaFleur, secretary.

Always a wise rule:
divide . . . and conquer!

It's good, sound strategy in decoration, too. Bare, boxy rooms take on a fascinating new character when they're divided.

Not only can these divisions create a hallway or foyer, but they offer a wealth of handsome storage area as well.

The effect is decorative, airy, open . . . still spacious . . . but, oh, so much more interesting. Our wall compartments work beautifully to divide dining and living areas, dens, bedrooms, almost any room. Come in and let's talk about an application in your home.

SAFETY CENTER

specifically mentioned that some police have opposed a joint facility because they say the firemen are "nosey" and should not be located where they can see the arrival of prisoners in custody. He pointed out that the design of the building planned makes this impossible.

A question from Selectman Stewart triggered the discussion which led to settlement of the safety center issue. Plans and sketches of the building were presented to the board for comment several weeks ago but there had been no indication until Monday whether it would be built with or without the board's blessing.

Stewart asked how much money would be available for the project. The manager replied that he would be working with approximately $556,000. He said that acquisition of the site and demolition of the old Tye warehouse had taken about $194,000. He said the architect has been told to bring the building in for $500,000, that $40,000 would cover architectural fees and that the remaining $16,000 would be held for contingencies.

White said he does not believe the building can be constructed for the budgeted price to which the manager replied: "Great. If you're right, you are a hero and if you are wrong, no one will hear you." He reminded White that estimates show it normally costs more to build structures of traditional design.

"Given my druthers," said the manager, "I would like to have a distinctly traditional building, but I don't have the site to work with or the money." During the discussion, Chairman Philip K. Allen said that he hopes to be around for the dedication and hopes that his name will be on the dedication plaque. He added: "We're not building for today or for the past, but for 75 to 100 years."

The motion for getting the project underway was made by Selectman Robert A. Watters who remarked: "In view of the well known fact that we can't please everyone no matter what we build, I move we instruct the manager to take bids. . . ." Selectman Roger Collins seconded the motion after pointing out that he would like consideration to be given to relocation of the dormitory. Allen joined Watters and Collins

Fresh Bread From Tripoli Ovens

Next time you're in the mood for some fresh, crusty Italian bread or some piping hot pizza, drive over to Tripoli Bakery, located at 104 Common Street in Lawrence. To residents of this area, Tripoli Bakery means the very finest in Italian bread, rolls, pastries and pizza. The experienced bakers at Tripoli make all their own bread on the premises. There is hot bread available every hour and it is still made the old fashioned way. The aroma of fresh, home baked bread gives evidence of this the minute you enter the store.

Tripoli Bakery features a complete line of Italian and French cookies and pastries, all types of delicious doughnuts, layer cakes, cupcakes, turn-overs, pastry squares, muffins and a variety of pies. Tripoli always has birthday cakes on hand, available in three sizes, and suitably decorated. They have regular bread, long Italian loaves in two sizes and the round Italian loaf. Their famous assortment of rolls includes submarine rolls, Italian hard crust rolls, soft crust rolls, hamburger, twisted, lobster and finger rolls. You may stop in any time and pick up a dozen or two, or for larger amounts, call and place an order. Rolls may be sliced for you, if you prefer. Tripoli Bakery makes all the rolls and pizza for the Andover schools.

Tripoli's Pizza Shop, managed by Mary Gennaro, is open Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays from 10

A.M. to 10 P.M., serving all types of oven-fresh pizza. You may pick it up to take home or eat it there.

Tripoli Bakery is a family business. Now owned by Angelo Zappala and managed by his brother, Steve Zappala, it was started in 1921 by their father and brother. In 1955, a new addition was added and the facility completely modernized in order to meet the needs of its many customers.

There is plenty of parking space at Tripoli Bakery, 104 Common Street in Lawrence. Just drive in, pick up your hot bread, pizza, rolls or pastries for your next party, and drive out. They are open seven days a week from 6 A.M. to 9 P.M. for your convenience.

In A Word . . .

DELAY CAN HURT

Do not delay getting the prescription filled that your doctor gave to you. Your illness cannot be properly treated unless you explicitly follow your doctor's orders.

Many times one will "wait" to see if he feels better before getting the medication ordered for him. A few days delay may result in a much longer recovery period. Or, not getting the prescription filled at all may cost you many times more in lost time and money than the original price of the medication.

Boy Scout News

Boy Scout Troop 75, St. Augustine, will meet on Friday evenings at 7 p.m. this year instead of Wednesday evenings. This change was made to eliminate the interference of scouting activities with school homework and to reduce the conflicting demands on the boys' time in the middle of the week. The switch in meeting night makes it necessary for the Troop to meet temporarily at Andover High School until a regular place can be arranged.

The over-night hike planned for Friday Sept. 15 was postponed because of rain and will be held Friday, Sept. 22. The Troop will assemble at the St. Augustine parking lot at 6 p.m. on Friday and will return on Saturday afternoon Sept. 23. The Scouts, except for the new Tenderfoot scouts, will hike with full packs and carry everything they need; this is optional with the new boys.

Scoutmaster Robert Mason indicated that a Board of Review will be held at the Camp-out and that dubbing-in ceremonies will be held for the following new scouts who have passed the Tenderfoot requirements: Mark Doyle, George Duke, Charles Galbiati, Gary Gaudet, Peter Noury, Frank Sherman.
Other new scouts who can pass the Tenderfoot test on Friday at the Campfire will also be dubbed in.

Saturday the troop will engage in individual fire building, cooking, stalking, trailing, conservation, and service projects. Special provisions are being made to transport some of the boys into town for football practice so that they can participate in part of the overnight hike. These boys will rejoin the troop after the practice and finish the hike.

Troop 75 has grown to 39 boys,
but is still accepting applications.
Any boy interested in joining should contact Scoutmaster Robert Mason for information and will be welcome to come along on the first hike on Friday night if he makes the necessary arrangements with the Scoutmaster.

Orientation for Cub Pack 75 will be held Friday, Sept. 22 at 7 p.m. in St. Augustine's School hall.

Any boy who wishes to join Cub Scouts must come accompanied by an adult.

John Axelrod of Andover has just completed a summer of "interning" in the Washington office of Congressman F. Bradford Morse (R-Mass.), Fifth District representative.

Axelrod is entering his senior year at Yale University in Connecticut. During the summer he handled, among other things, research on the new draft law and the financing of nursing home construction as background for the Congressman.

The Andover student was one of some 14,000 students working in Congressional and Executive branch offices under an intern program.

ZBA Hearings Next Month

The Zoning Board of Appeals has scheduled three hearings for the conference room in Memorial Hall Library for Oct. 5 at 7 p.m.

Among requests to be heard will be that of Danton Realty Trust of 77 Main St. which is seeking a variance to allow a new building complex consisting of retail stores, offices and town house apartments between 27 and 43 Main St. in the general business zone.

This is the Roger's Place development announced some weeks ago by John Davidson and Phidias Dantos, partners in Danton Realty. Improvements to one of two existing buildings which are to be part of the complex have already been made. The new construction will be on what is now a vacant lot diagonally across from Town Hall.

Also to be heard Oct. 5; the request of David Simpson of 176 High Plain Rd. for a variance to permit the addition of an apartment to the existing structure at 12 Gray Rd. The property is in a single residence C zone.

The third hearing will be on the request of Mathew J. Coumans of 40 Jenkins Rd. for a variance to allow an addition with less than the required setback. The property is in a single residence C zone.

"Y" DIRECTOR

Following next Monday's scheduled meeting of AYC directors, basic changes in the organization and program of the Center will be announced which are expected to result both in expanding services of the AYC in its building - centered program and extension of programs elsewhere in the community. Plans to improve the financial situation of the Center along the lines recommended by fiscal experts of the United Fund, will also be reported.

The new AYC director was born in Beverly and has been active with the YMCA as an employee since his pre-high school days. Gate attended Springfield College, working full time as aquatic director for the West Springfield Community YMCA during his school years. He graduated cum laude in 1933 with a BS degree in physical education.

Following graduation, he was general secretary of the Westfield YMCA from 1933 to 1938 and was for three years the youngest YMCA executive secretary in the world. From 1938 to 1946 he was physical director for the "Y" in Nashua, N. H. and since 1946, he has been with the Lawrence organization.

Athletic Costs Discussed

The School Committee learned Tuesday in a discussion with Donald Dunn, director of athletics and physical education for the public schools, that the school athletic program is costing the department roughly $33,000 in budgeted funds annually.

Dunn reported that $43,494 was spent on athletics during the last school term and that approximately $7700 was collected in gate receipts etc. for the revolving fund.

The School Committee asked earlier in the year for figures that would separate the cost of the athletic program from that of the physical education program.

HOLLAND BULBS

In this climate you should plant bulbs as soon as possible after you buy them. You can plant anytime before the soil freezes. Severe winters will not harm bulbs that have been given a chance to develop roots in the fall. Holland bulbs will do well anywhere in your garden. Spring-flowering bulbs do not need full sunshine and may be planted in partial shade. They are one of the best investments you can make in home beauty.
